Cyberbullying among 10- to 18-year-olds: parents' view in France and across Europe

Perception of risk

French parents are the most concerned

85%

of French parents see cyberbullying as a risk to their child compared with 74% across Europe

How informed parents feel

84% of French parents feel well informed

A view shared by 88% of parents across Europe

Only 1% of French parents identify all five emojis presented as possible ways of mocking, belittling or insulting someone

39% of European parents have never heard of sextorsion or revenge porn

Parent-child communication

21% of parents feel their child does not find it easy to talk to them about cyberbullying

How parents respond to cyberbullying

4 in 10 parents do not think to preserve evidence

1 in 2 parents do not contact a dedicated helpline

1 in 3 parents would consider contacting the young person behind the bullying directly

Source: Orange-IFOP study
France: Online survey of a representative sample of 1,000 parents of children aged 10 to 18 attending secondary school, using the quota method.
International: The survey was also conducted among samples of 500 parents in each of Germany, Spain, Italy, Poland, Romania, Belgium and the Netherlands.